The Control Flow Graph shows the sequence and conditionality of the software's calling hierarchy.

Displayed inside of each function are just those portions of the program logic relevant to the calls, sets and reads to other symbols in the graph.

The sequence of calls from a function can be seen.